POPULATION FIRST EVENT THE INTERNATIONAL DAY FOR A GIRL CHILD

Venue for the event: State Bank of India Bhavan Auditorium, Nariman Point

Date: 19 October 2019

Time: 3:00 pm to 6:30pm

Since the year 2012, every year 11th October is observed as International Day of the Girl Child (IDGC). So, this year Population First celebrated the IDGC in collaboration with SBI FOUNDATION on Saturday 19th October 2019, by arranging two interesting Panel Discussions.

Panel Discussion with girls students: Education Health, Empowerment of Girls

In this discussion girls were asked questions and were discussed the solutions and problems. This discussion gave a chance to the girls to voice their opinion and share their thoughts with the audience.

PANEL DISCUSSION WITH WOMEN LEADERS Intersectionality between Quality Education, Health and Social Development

This Theme explains that educating and empowering girls, solve a multitude of problems. It gives access to quality education enables a girl to have more agency, to make an informed choice and how this choice lead to financial independence, better health, sexual violence against women, etc.

Students from different colleges of Mumbai along with few school girls participated in this panel discussion. . Members of SBI Foundation also there for the event.

While we were entering there were some charts for the participants to draw or write something related to WOMEN EMPOWERMENT AND RESPECT. Girls from different college and school also wrote some slogans on the charts.

There was a video clip for everyone to watch, which showed a pregnant woman whose in-laws were forcing her to abort the child. Suneeta Rao who performed the lead role in the video, was present during this event. She even performed a song. She invited us to dance with her and other performers on the stage. This was really enjoyable.

Participants came to know about treatment of violence and inequality to which young girls are subjected to even in today's world. During the event speakers spoke about menstruation cycle and the kind of care and hygiene required to be taken for a healthy body. Also, Speakers also told about some abortion operations regarding rapes and wrong family planning.

Speakers, during their interactions with students in the audience asked about their career planning and educational planning and gave them some important tips on how to focus and why to focus on their education. Speakers insisted that having proper education they will come to know about their rights and responsibilities. They will know where they have to take a stand and where to raise their voice.

Event came to an end with a vote of thanks by Dr. Shiny Varghese Population First.

Swachh Bharat Sarvekshan 2020 awareness campaign January 31, 2020

This activity was conducted in association with Mumbai Municipal Corporation

Mrs. Ratan Chauhan and Mr. Rupesh Gohil made a presentation to a group of 58 students of FYBCOM, FY& SYBA.

Resource persons informed students that, Ministry of Health, Government of India has launched an Android phone based, app 'Swachata Mahua' for the citizens who can use this app to take a survey about the status of cleanliness in their cities. This app is useful on a daily basis as one can click a photo of any garbage unattended, geo-tag the photo and send through the app.

Concerned local authorities in the municipality shall be alerted and will be able to take action.

Most students have downloaded the app during this presentation and few have expressed they would use it when required. Students agreed to use this app regularly, and they would spread the knowledge about this app in community. Students were informed that while using the app they have to be careful and formal and must properly logout and quit after each time they use the app. Students were informed about the mobile app safety behaviour to be adopted while using any app which tracks location and is allowed to click photos.
